Current Situation:

Yesterday, fire behavior moderated on the Line Fire. The most active area was the Santa Ana River drainage with fire moving up the drainage to Sand Creek on the north and also near the community of Pinezanita. The fire burned to the community of Pinezanita but all residential structures were saved with quick action by firefighters. Six night-flying helicopters were dropping water in the Angelus Oaks area.

The fire is active in the Angelus Oaks area and burned up to Highway 38 just north of Angelus Oaks. There was spotting across Highway 38 but all spots were extinguished. Suppression operations are planned in the Angelus Oaks community today. Angelus Oaks was placed under an evacuation order yesterday for the safety of the community.

Crews continue to go direct with fire in the Bear and Siberia creek drainage when safe to do so in this very steep area. The western and southern perimeters of the fire remain in patrol and monitor status.

The closure orders for the Forest remain in place.
